

REPUBLICANS TO RECOVER CREEK

County Conventions Interest Voters at This Time.

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 20.—Even this early in the day the republicans of Creek county are awakening to the fact that next year's campaign year and already one convention has been held and county delegates attended the Shawnee congressional meeting.

The meeting was held in Bristow this week and during this first meeting a number of names were mentioned for the chairmanship of the central committee in 1920. Cal Wright of Kellierville, present chairman, is again mentioned, but the west side republicans have decided that he is not the man for the place. They want to have the chairmanship more centrally located or a west side man chosen.

Cal James Harris, former mayor of Tulsa, has quite a following and as many friends are boasting for him for all they are worth. Drumright is backing "Bill" Dunn. His friends are doing nothing but drumming every republican they meet from all parts of the county for him.

Bristow also has a Charles T. Schaefer, former mayor, one of the best known republicans in the county. He is the first choice of Oklahoma republicans after their local man.

Schaefer has some three or four men "prominently mentioned" for the place, but it is not generally believed that the name will be disclosed outside of the county seat. There is no telling though what may happen between now and convention time, but the republicans on the west side of the county claim that they are entitled to the chairmanship and that they intend to have it during so far there has been but one or two names mentioned as secretary of the committee, but it is expected that many will develop before convention time. The work of the secretary during the next campaign will be a strenuous one and will call for a man who knows publicity work and how to get the voters out, even more so than the chairman. Two or three newspaper men have been mentioned. One is Ed Admire of this city; Fred Knapp of Depew, and several others.

At the Bristow meeting a republican league was formed and another meeting was set for January 10. Dr. Schaefer was chosen president.
